

My belief is cellular phone use on an aircraft would be distrubing to others and disruptive on the flight. Cell phone user are often loud and very unconcerned with the people around them. Think of the noise level on a 757 in main cabin with 50 of the 166 passenger talking on cell phones while the balance are trying to watch a movie or catch a quick nap. This is a recipe for disaster. Flight Attendants have far more important things to do than police cell phone disturbances. Think, what a great diversion, cause a huge cell phone dispute diverting everyones attention to one individual??? What's going on elsewhere??? This is the era of technology but all of need not be available or used during flight. If there is a need for in air communication it is needed by the flight crew not the passengers. Please do not allow cellular phone use in flight, we Flight Attendant need our attention on SECURITY not diverted from it needing to be the "Cell Phone Police!!!!!"
